

SOARING INTO READING

SUMMER 2008

RAWSON—SAUNDERS SCHOOL

Rawson-Saunders School Summer Programs
2600 Exposition Blvd.
Austin, TX 78703

TO:

Research demonstrates that all students experience significant learning losses during the summer months, according to the Center for Summer Learning at Johns Hopkins University. Children experience an average loss of two to three months in reading skill over the summer months. (Reading is a skill for life, and, as with any skill, practice is key.) Studies have shown that children who read more become better readers. Children who read over the summer months often gain, rather than lose, important skills. When children become better readers, reading becomes a more enjoyable experience, and they want to read more. Whether your child is just beginning to learn the letters of the alphabet or reading Shakespeare, reading every single day, even in the summer, will keep reading enjoyable and skills sharp. Particularly for students who struggle, keeping hard-earned literacy skills strong over the summer break is essential.
